

Literature News

FibreTRAX

This digital add/drop multiplexer delivers all the capabilities and advantages of multimedia communications with a single platform architecture. It integrates the functionality of external channel banks, video switching systems and codes equipment into the system architecture, thus simplifies network design and reduces costs for the purchase, expansion and maintenance of the network.

For more information, circle 117 or contact Loo Yau Lai at 4807791 or email: looyl@stee.st.com.sg

AgiLink Digital Radio System

AgiLink Radio System, operating at frequencies from 13 GHz to 18 GHz, provides a cost effective and immediate solution to voice and data transmission. It is available in both protected and non-protected configurations. The AgiLink system is ideally suited for networks operated by personal communications and cellular service providers, utilities, public telephone network operators, local government and private users.

For more information, circle 118 or contact Nixon Ng at 5687410 or email: nixonn@agilis.st.com.sg

Thermal Images

Chartered Electro-Optics' (CEO) thermal imaging systems enable you to observe and take aim under limited visibility conditions. Using advanced thermal imaging technologies, CEO's reliable products exhibit excellent detection and recognition capabilities in the most adverse environments. A wide range of thermal imaging solutions are available to meet your requirements, be they on land, sea or air.

For more information circle 119 or contact Ho Kok Khay at 4858246 or email: hokk@ceo.st.com.sg

Crane Simulator

The Crane Simulator is designed to train crane operators to operate cranes efficiently and safely. It can also be used for:

- Screening of unsuitable crane operators
- Re-certification of experienced operators
- Initial training for inexperienced operators
- Corrective training for experienced operators

For more information, circle 120 or contact Wong Chee Hai at 4808317 or email: wongch@stee.com.sg